Administrator of Mary Baker Eddy Estate Makes
Final Settlement.

Concord, March 26—Josiah E. For-and, administrator of the estate of Mary Baker G. Eddy, founder of the Christian Science church, completed the settlement of his account today in the probate court by turning over the sum of $2,590,632 to the trustees appointed to administer the trust created under the will. He also made a final payment of $9892, on account of the inheritance and succession tax, making the total paid to the state $318,522.

During Mr. Fernald's administration the estate has been taxable in Concord. Hereafter this city will get only one-sixth, while Brookline, Mass., the residence of most of the trustees will get the remainder of the taxes.

Washington, March 26—The greatest legislative battle yet undertaken by President Wilson's administration was begun today with the presentation of a special rule in the house to limit debate and prohibit amendment on the administration's proposal to reopen the provision of the Panama Canal act allowing the free passage of American ships.

For two hours the rule was alternately defended and attacked in heated debate in the house. When adjournment came with an hour of debate on the rule left for tomorrow, Speaker Champ Clark, who had not yet announced his position on the repeal policy issued a statement vigorously opposing the rule.

"Surely there is nothing sacred about this repeal bill, and there is no reason for this mad rush," said the speaker's statement. "It will not be a party to ramming such a rule down
the throats of members."

Impressed with the importance of a measure which President Wilson has characterized as necessary to the conduct of his administration's foreign policy, an extraordinary attendance of members was on the floor when the rule was presented. Specta-tars filled the galleries, occupied the stairways and overflowed into the corridors.

At four o'clock Representative
Henry, chairman of the rules committee presented the bill limiting debate on the Sims bill to twenty hours and precluding amendments except for a single motion to recommit. Brier's argument brought about an agreement for three hours of debate on the rule and the preliminary skirmish of the

SIX DROWNED WHEN SCHOONER IS LOST AT SEA

The Hattie P. Simpson of Boston, Coal Laden, Goes to the Bottom.

Washington, March 26—Loss at sea of the American schooner Hattie P. Simpson of Boston with her captain and five other members of the crew was reported to the navy department tonight in a relayed message from the steamship Caracas, which has on board four survivors of the schooner.

The dispatch said that the Simpson sank last Saturday morning March 21,
but gave no details of the catastrophe.
It came from the Caracas, presumably the American steamer of that name bound from San Juan, Porto Rico, and was picked up by the battleship Kansas, now at target practice off the Virginia Capes. Captain Fletcher of the Kansas relayed the message to Rear Admiral Badger on the Michigan in the Hampton roads, who in turn sent it to the department. The message said:

"Just received from Kansas, now well off shore from Cape Henry for direct firing:

"Received from Caracas—'F. Fresh-um second mate; John Turner, seaman; John Martin, engineer; Charles Brown, seaman of schooner Hattie P.
Simpson of Boston, Philadelphia for Galveston, March 13, and abandoned and sunk morning 21. All remainder of crew, captain and first mate, steward and three seamen lost."

Naval officers were unable to explain the loss of the schooner as they had heard of no heavy weather along the coast during the latter part of last week. They were inclined to think that the crew must have left the vessel in boats before she sank and that one of the boats were swamped.

MONUMENT AT ISLES OF SHOALS

Obelisk to be Erected on Star Island in Memory of Rev. John Tuck

A monument is to be erected on Star Island, Isles of Shoals, sometime in July to the memory of Rev.
John Tuck, who was a brother of Edward Tuck's great-grandfather.

Edward Tuck recently had his attention called to the condition of the monument to the memory of Mr.
Tuck at the Isles of Shoals, by Dr.
Joseph W. Warren of Haverhill, Pa., a summer resident of the Shoals who suggested the importance of preserving in some form a lasting monument to John Tuck, all of which correspondence was turned over to Benjamin A. Kimball for suggestions to erect a proper memorial.

Mr. Kimball conferred with Timothy P. Sullivan. He took the matter up and reported to Mr. Kimball that an obelisk or shaft after the style of an Egyptian obelisk would be the most fitting type for this monument.

Drawings were made in conformity with this idea and sent to Mr. Tuck for his approval. In returning the same to Mr. Kimball he said, "I endorse the sketch and suggestions received and authorize you to go ahead with the erection of this monument as suggested in yours of January 26th 1914."

The memorial is now under contract with the Pigeon Hill Granite Company of Cape Ann and will be delivered under the auspices of the New Hampshire Historical Society some time in the latter part of July, 1914, of which public notice will be given later.

evening with the old board and went over the last year's business. The plans for 1914 were discussed informally and the coming season will start at the earliest seasonable date. Applications have been received for a team from the U. S. M. C. and all the other teams with possibly two exceptions have indicated a desire to enter. Two new nines want to join besides the U. S. M. C., which shows keen interest.

President Wilson won the first test in the Panama toll fight when the house by a vote of 207 to 176 adopted the previous question on the rule to limit debate on a bill repealing the toll exemption. Oscar Underwood, Democratic leader in the house took the floor today to oppose the gag rule. He said he was opposed to President Wil-

GEO B. FRENCH CO

ASQUITH DEFERS HIS STATEMENT

Government Still Faces Extremely Delicate Situation.

London, March 26.—That the government is still facing a situation of extreme difficulty is proved by the fact that Premier Asquith was not in a position tonight to make his promised statement in parliament, and it was consequently postponed until tomorrow.

The air is full of rumors, among the most creditable being the report that Colonel Seely is after all to quit the war office by an exchange of portfolios with Lewis Harcourt, secretary for the colonies.

The only new facts in the situation today were to be found in the resignation of Field Marshal Sir John French chief of the imperial general staff and Sir John Spencer Burt, assistant general from the army council.

The rumor persists that other members of the army council have resigned but this cannot be affirmed.

Negotiations and conferences between Buckingham Palace, the war office and Downing street were carried on throughout the day and it was known that the strongest efforts were being made to induce Field Marshal French and General Burt to consider their action. The prime minister called a hurried meeting of the cabinet at his residence after it was decided to postpone the statement to parliament.

Later it was announced with a show of authority that both French and Burt had at last consented to withdraw their resignations.

In Ireland no changes have occurred. Belfast remains quiet and although it is asserted that the officers of the Curragh Camp are determined to resign because of the repudiation of Colonel Seely's guarantee by the government, no actual resignations so far as is known have occurred.

At midnight Field Marshal French authorized the statement that his resignation had neither been accepted nor withdrawn.

Nothing is likely to be made known officially until Premier Asquith makes his statement in the House of Commons, when it will probably be found that the removal of Colonel Seely from the war office is the price for the withdrawal of the resignations of General French and Burt and that the arrangement of this matter was the reason for the postponement of the premier's statement.

According to the best information the conference at the war office this afternoon of all the principal commanding generals of the French was called to enable General French and Burt to explain that their resignation was a personal matter.

Accept Seely Resignation?
It is generally believed however, that it will be found that Colonel Seely has again resigned and that his resignation has been accepted; that Lewis Harcourt has been elected to replace him and that Lord Bannockburn, secretary for the colonies will be promoted colonial secretary.

Another cabinet council will be held Friday before parliament assembles.

so it is quite possible that there will be other, perhaps unexpected changes in the leadership situation. Much interest is being shown in the almost daily conferences between Chancellor Lloyd George and James Ramsay MacDonald, the Independent Labor member which is interpreted in some quarters as meaning a new coalition between the labor party and the extreme Radicals who would place the hand question and social reform in the forefront.

BOSTON OPERA COMPANY.

After the performance of Saturday when the over-popular "Jewels of the Madonna" will be sung at the matinee and a gala bill including "The Secret of Suzanne" and acts from "Lulu," "Faust" and "Gloria" will follow in the evening, the Boston Opera House will close its doors, not to re-open them until Jan. 4, 1915.

As already announced in the Boston press the coming season is to be reduced to twelve weeks, hence the late opening. The directorate board is of the opinion that the shorter season will result in improved conditions from every point of view—there will be a larger attendance, more enthusiasm, a more brilliant ensemble made possible by the increased patronage, and a more varied repertoire.

To bring about the last mentioned result, the endeavor will be made to arrange the opera so that 24, instead of 18 (as in the past) will be given. To this end each opera will be presented twice instead of four times, thus dividing the performances into two series instead of four. Monday and Friday evenings, and Wednesday evenings and Saturday afternoons will form the two series, when the same opera will be repeated. Therefore those who subscribe for Monday and Wednesday evenings, or Monday evening and Saturday afternoon, or Wednesday and Friday evenings, or Friday evening and Saturday matinee, will be able to hear the entire repertoire.

The subscription sale was opened to the public last Monday, in a most gratifying fashion, giving ample proof of the enthusiasm of the season meets with the approval of the opera-going public. The demand for seats is much greater than it was at this time last year, and although a subscription ticket for the coming season is proportionately one-third less, the total receipts are far in advance.

The subscription office will be open daily through the summer from 10 to 3, and there seat plans may be consulted and applications filed. The terms call for a payment of 25 per cent, when the choice is made, and the balance does not fall due till the tickets are ready for delivery in the fall.

During the season of 1914-15 the concert bureau of the Boston Opera Company will be under the immediate supervision of the management with Mr. Thomas Nielsen as the sole representative. Heretofore the engagement of Boston opera artists for concert appearances throughout New England has been looked after by agents and not always with satisfactory results. In fact considerable annoyance has been caused by persons who have presented throughout the country, concerts and excerpts from operas with small and inferior companies, under the guise that such enterprises were a part of, or at least under the auspices of the Boston Opera Company.

To accomplish this, an engagement was usually given to an understudy, or one or two very minor artists, who at some time had been with the Boston Opera Company; and then by word of the printing and advertisements in such a manner, the impression was given to local theatrical and concert managers, newspaper men, and the public generally, that such troupes were under the sponsorship of the Boston Opera Company.

Such proceedings have tended to discredit the reputation of the company, and its regular artists; and it is in the hope of avoiding such happenings the coming season that the new concert bureau has been organized.

This announcement is made through the press at this time in order to protect the company as well as the public from possible misrepresentation in the future.

IT MUST PAY YOU.

Unless the advertisers who use this newspaper can make their business announcements of profit to you they cannot hope to make them of profit to themselves.

They must please you to make a customer of you. Naturally they are going to make their offerings as attractive as possible in their advertisements.

But more than that they are going to make good on their promises. Indeed, the wise advertiser tries to do a little better than he promises.

It is in your own interest and to the advantage of your pocket-book to read the advertising in a representative newspaper like "The Herald."

Glance over the announcements today and see how fully they cover every human want.

Fred Blanding Sued by Feds for Returning to Fold After Jumping

BLANDING

Fred Blanding on the pitching staff of the Cleveland Naps, jumped to the Federals and then he jumped right back again to O. B. (Organized Ball) Now Freddie is being sued by the Feds for breach of contract or something like that. Freddie says it doesn't make much difference what he's being sued for; he's going to stick to the Naps and that's the end of it. Blanding was assigned by the Feds to the Pittsburgh team, but his wife was asked by the American league club, and he decided to return to the fold.

MME. CAILLAUX BREAKS DOWN

Slayer of Paris Editor Weeps as She Speaks of Crime.

Paris, March 26.—With a cry of indignation, during her cross examination by Magistrate Douhaud today at the preliminary inquiry into the killing of M. Chalmette, Mme. Caillaux reminded the magistrate how the Federals had battered her husband about the "Thyoe" letter. She then began to weep.

"I regret profoundly the consequences of my act," said the witness, "I would prefer a thousand times that the campaign had continued rather than I should have killed M. Chalmette. It is impossible to find in my act another cause than that which I have given."

M. Roucard sought in explanation of the discrepancies in Mme. Caillaux's recital before him and the story she told the police.

"In attacking your husband," said the magistrate, "M. Chalmette was fighting the politician not the private citizen. Moreover the letter signed 'Thyoe' concerned another woman."

"Yes," responded the witness "but it was I who succeeded that woman as the wife of Mr. Caillaux. I will repeat to you how M. Chalmette in an article on March 16 battered my husband regarding the intimate nature of this letter, and that is not politics."

Mme. Caillaux told the magistrate she had received on March 15, an anonymous letter which she had since destroyed, informing her of the imminent publication of letters concerning her.

OUCH! BACKACHE, RUB LAME BACK

Rub pain away with a small trial bottle of old "St. Jacobs Oil"

When your back aches and lame or lumbago, sciatica or rheumatism has stiffened you, don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it right into your back, and by the time you count fifty, the soreness and lameness is gone.

Don't stay crippled! This soothing, penetrating oil needs to be used only once. It takes the ache and pain right out and ends the misery. It is magical, yet absolutely harmless and doesn't burn or discolor the skin.

Nothing else stops lumbago, sciatica and lame back misery so promptly and surely. It never disappoints!

WANT WARSHIP TO CARRY MAIL

Washington, March 26.—The use of United States warships for carrying mails, passengers and freight between this country and South America was advocated today by Senator Weeks in a resolution presented to the Senate. By this the Secretary of the navy is asked to prepare a plan for running such a service between New York and New Orleans and Valparaiso and intermediate ports.

The cruisers Columbia and Minneapolis and the seagoing cruisers Salem, Chester and Birmingham are suggested by Senator Weeks for this purpose. In a statement on the floor, Senator Weeks said that mails now are sent to South America at infrequent intervals, and are carried principally by ships flying the British flag.

"I am opposed to Government ownership of transportation lines, and generally speaking, in my judgment, the Government is the least economical and in many cases the least efficient business agency," said Senator Weeks.

"If, later on, private capital undertakes the building and running of a line of steamships over this route, I should be inclined to withdraw the Government ships."

"It would be an inspiring thought," said Senator Weeks "for the American people, that a ship flying the American flag carrying American mail, passengers and freight would be waiting at the Atlantic gates of the Panama Canal to continue her trip to the western ports of South America."

VILLA FIGHTING FOR HIS LIFE —HARD PRESSED BY FEDERALS

(Washington, March 26.—This message sent from Mexico City last night was received at the embassy here today:

"Rebels once more routed and repulsed at Gomez Palacio with heavy losses, while trying to approach Torreon."

The State Department had only a report from El Paso saying that up to yesterday afternoon results were "still undetermined."

Other dispatches reported there was absolutely no foundation for stories that danger threatened five Americans in the Tlalahuillo District of Coahuila. Consular representatives report all foreigners within territory under Constitutional control as being protected.

Consul Garret, at Nuevo Laredo, just over the Rio Grande, reported today that an American boy in Laredo, Tex., was wounded in the cheek by a shot fired from the Mexican side.

VILLA FIGHTS FOR HIS LIFE

New York, March 26.—The New

York Evening World prints the following:

At Verjil, Mex., March 26.—Gen. "Pancho" Villa, his army divided and he himself with a third of his troops defeated once, spent last night in a desperate and bloody effort to regain Gomez Palacio, the little railroad junction across the Nueces River from Torreon. The outcome is still in doubt.

Villa won that place at the cost of many of his best soldiers on Tuesday only to be driven back again that night. Now he is staking his ambition if not his very life, on its recapture with such forces as were left under his immediate command when the smartly uniformed regulars from Mexico City cut in between him and Benavides on Tuesday night.

Benavides, with two-thirds of the chief forces, is across the river, hammering at the defenses of Torreon. It is a fight which shows no disposition to yield. The force with him must win or be utterly crushed.

Should they be forced to retreat, two courses are open to them. They must either take to the open country on the east, with no supplies available and no means of holding themselves intact, or ford the river under the raking fire of the Federal machine guns.

They are said not to know that their chief, with a third of their command, was dislodged from Gomez Palacio and driven back 20 miles. They must, however, be aware that heavy firing is now going on in that suburb of Torreon, and Villa went into battle last night fearful that Benavides' men, when they learned what had happened to him, would become disheartened and give up their struggle.

Villa's Spirit Not Crushed
In this crisis, when ill-fortune is pressing him so hard, Villa's personal spirit remains unshaken. However, severe may have been the check his army has received in battle, Villa the man, is still unbeaten.

Those who saw him lead his troops into action last night say his appearance was one of combat, that he clutched a blue-barreled rifle in his own hands and went into the zone of deadly fire at the head of his men.

He was asking no quarter and intends to give none. It is a fight to the death. There are no more leas about dying in the finest cases of Torreon or cockfighting in the Plaza.

Gen. Regino Velasco and his victorious troops, the machine guns and artillery of Torreon, barred every impediment, muddy morasses and death-stained between the gigantic, unwhipped fighter and the toothsome dishes of Torreon's cafes.

ELKS RECEIVE AN OFFICIAL VISITATION AT NEW HOME

The handsome new home of the Portsmouth Lodge of Elks, had its first official visitation on Thursday evening, when District Deputy Grand Visited Elks, Thomas P. Moran of Nashua, Lodge No. 720, accompanied by Grand Exalted, George W. Walcott of the same lodge, made an official inspection of the lodge and the work.

In addition to presenting for his inspection the first Elks home east of Boston, a class of 12 candidates were initiated.

The work was in the handsome new lodge room and at the conclusion of the work, the District Deputy took occasion to hand out some praise for the local lodge.

He complimented them on their degree work, on their membership and on their magnificent home, and he told them that it was undoubtedly the finest east of Boston, and in some respects the finest in New England.

At the conclusion of the work a supper was served with a menu of roast turkey, with all of the fixings, served by the Elks' Chef.

Practically all of the new furniture has been installed and only a few finishing touches remain before the rebuilding of the home will be marked.

From the standpoint of the military strategists, Villa has been woefully out-pointed. When he won Gomez Palacio on Tuesday he sent Benavides with his Zaragoza Division around to the east to assault Torreon from that quarter. Two-thirds of the army were dispatched on that mission.

Benavides' Men Entered Torreon. Benavides got across the river under artillery fire, leaving the stream between with the bodies of men and horses. But the spirit of his men was undaunted, and they took a little advantage on the edge of Torreon. That advantage was held for only a short time, however. They were soon expelled from the city.

Villa recognized the northern approach of Torreon as impregnable to him. Those are faced by Gomez Palacio, on the northern bank of the river. Villa left but a handful of troops there. That was his strategic blunder. Covered by the guns of Torreon's strong northern defense, a crack detachment of the city's defenders crossed the river in the night, and swooped down on the few companies holding Gomez Palacio.

Villa was in danger of being caught between the river and this force, which had whirled upon his flank. There was nothing for him to do but fall back with all possible speed to protect his base of supplies, which he did, retreating under heavy fire 20 miles to this point.—El Verjil.

Only a lack of cavalry on the part of the Federals prevented Villa and the detached section of his army from being wiped out of existence. The entire cavalry force of Torreon was doing service as a screen for the infantry manning against Benavides.

In the battle between Venavides and his Zaragoza brigade and the Federals which found him driven out of the city where he had so confidently expected to entertain Gen. Villa at breakfast "in the finest cafe in town" Benavides appears to have fully recovered from the shock of finding himself suddenly fighting an organized and aggressive force.

He rallied his men and apparently is holding a position on the eastern outskirts of the city and trying to force his way in again. Nothing has been heard from him since last night.

SKATING ON SALT

Nature has been conquered once more. Men can skate not on ice, but on salt. A salt skating rink constructed by the patented process of Dr. Edward Arnold was recently exhibited and operated in Berlin.

All skaters will welcome the invention of a method of producing by purely chemical means and without the employment of a costly refrigerating process, a saline crystalline mass which exhibits all the characteristic properties of ice. The surface of the mass can scarcely be distinguished from a surface of natural or artificial ice and the resemblance is increased by the fact that the shavings produced by ice skates have all the appearance of snow. The mass is entirely odorless, and contains no ingredients injurious to the health or the clothing of the skaters. It can be utilized for skating with ordinary ice skates, in every season and climate except when the temperature is higher than 85 degrees Fahrenheit.

The mass can be applied to any tight floor of wood, cement or asphalt, from which it can easily be removed by stripping or steaming. It is preferable to construct the skating floor in a building, but it may be installed in the open air, if it is protected from rain, drying winds, summer heat and direct sunshine by a shell, tent or other covering.

Boards can be coated with the mass and can be quickly assembled to form floors of any desired size, which can be taken apart as quickly. In this way temporary skating floors can readily be introduced on the stake and in public or private frolics, indoors or in the open air. Skides for skating can be constructed by a similar method.

The costs of construction and maintenance of a salt skating rink are moderate. The construction is very simple. The mass is melted and poured on the floor, where it quickly solidifies and forms a hard, smooth surface. It is applied in successive layers, each one twenty-fifth inch thick. The cost of upkeep is small, for the wear is less than that of ice, especially at low temperatures, and the material is collected, melted with fresh material and used again.

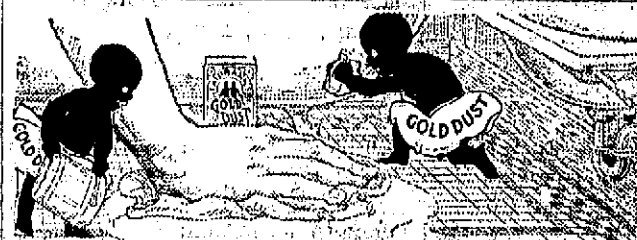

The mass taken from old skating boards or rinks can be utilized in the same manner. The quantity required for a single layer is less than one-fifth pound per square foot. A fresh layer must be applied from time to time, with a frequency proportional to the use of the rinks. Two applications a week usually suffice. A surface of 5000 square feet can be kept in condition by three hours daily work of one attendant, in addition to occasional sweeping.

During an exhibition which was recently held in the exhibition building of the Berlin zoo a demountable skating surface composed of wooden planks was used very largely and its durability was thoroughly demonstrated. Walter Isenhardt in the Scientific American.

Makes Healthy Bowels

THIS simple rule of health is daily called attention to by every doctor in the land, whose first question to the patient almost invariably is, "Are your bowels regular?" Yet there's not one person in fifty who takes proper care of the bowels. And the result of this foolish neglect is nine-tenths of all ill-health. If today you are unable to free your body of waste matter at the usual time, or if the act causes straining, pains and discomfort, don't let that condition occur again tomorrow. Unless your bowels can carry away the waste materials left after food is digested, decay sets in, the poisons of which, taken up by the blood, increase the risk of Typhoid Fever, Appendicitis, and many other serious diseases.

In treating constipation, there is a right way and a wrong way. The wrong way is to take harsh purgatives which even though they do clear the bowels, cause griping and nausea, injure the delicate tissues, and so disturb the normal functions as to cause the return of constipation. The right way is to help Nature to produce natural movement without pain or discomfort by using

Rexall Orderlies

More Than One Hundred Million Were Sold Last Year

This enormous quantity was used with good results by busy men who suffered from constipation, due to lack of exercise, or indigestion caused by overwork—by children whose parents realize the harmful effect of common-purgatives—by old people whose systems cannot stand anything harsh—by women during pregnancy, and after childbirth, when any medicine with a violent action would be particularly dangerous. Many of these people are your neighbors and friends. Ask anyone who has ever used them—they'll tell you Rexall Orderlies satisfied and helped them.

—a gentle laxative in the form of a chocolate-tasting tablet. One of these tablets eaten just before going to bed will help to restore your bowels to normal activity at a time when your body being at rest, the medicine can do its best work. As a result of taking that tablet (or say two, if your case is obstinate), your bowels will move easily and naturally in the morning. The use of Rexall Orderlies for a few days afterward will restore normal regularity. Even chronic constipation is benefited by them, and it is not necessary to continue the treatment for a long time, because, instead of driving Nature, they simply help her to help herself.

Sold only at the more than 7,000 Rexall Stores and in this town only by us. In vest pocket tin boxes, 10c, 25c, 50c

If Rexall Orderlies do not make your bowels act right, tell us so and we'll give back your money without asking a single question. There is no red tape to this guarantee. It means just what it says. You sign nothing. We won't hesitate, or ask you any questions. Your word is enough. If Rexall Orderlies do not do all you expect them to—if you don't feel better after using them and find that they are the pleasantest-acting and best laxative you have ever used, we want you to tell us and get your money back.

Sacramento's Demonstration.

Sacramento, Cal., deserves credit for hauling the "army of the unemployed" movement just as it did. Instead of sitting down and shedding tears of sympathy over a mob bent upon disorder and destruction, officers and citizens armed themselves with pick handles and clubs and taught the rioters that there is still a demand for law and order in that city, and that it is to be maintained. Many heads were cracked and much blood flowed, but the "army" was quelled, many of its officers were arrested, and it was demonstrated that Sacramento is not ready for government by mob or under the necessity of submitting to it.

It was a good piece of work on the part of the officials and people of the city. Large numbers of citizens volunteered their services as special deputy sheriffs, and when the time for action came they behaved like veterans, as many a swollen and lumpy head in the ranks of the "army" attests today.

Intelligent people know that there is no sound excuse for the demonstrations being made in different parts of the country by armies of the unemployed, so called. Without doubt there are men in many cities who are honestly seeking employment, but it is to be believed that few of them are to be found in these marauding and disturbing bodies that are posing as the victims of hard conditions, "marching on Washington," raiding churches and in other ways making themselves obnoxious to decent and law-abiding people. It is time the whole foolish and dangerous business should be stopped, and if it cannot be stopped without the use of pick handles and clubs, then let the hickory fall upon the heads that invite and deserve it.

There is not a country on the face of the earth where such provision is made for the destitute as is made in the United States. The poorest do not need to go hungry here, and are not allowed to if their distress is known. Usually there is employment for all who are willing to work. Taking the country from one end to the other, in the course of twelve months there is more complaint of the lack of labor than of a lack of employment.

And when there is lack of employment rioting is not the remedy. Sacramento has demonstrated that.

A Call for Reform.

Senator J. H. Lewis of Illinois, frequently spoken of in the papers as "Jim Ham" Lewis, recently gave an address before the Kansas City Bar Association, in which he contended that something needs to be done to restore confidence in the judiciary, and that the leaders in this work should be the lawyers.

In the course of his address Mr. Lewis said this country was nearer civil revolution a little over a year ago than ever before since the Civil war, this condition being due to a prevailing belief that "the thing called law had licensed the commercial marauder and legalized the personal oppressor." Three presidents, said Mr. Lewis, Roosevelt, Taft and Wilson, have declared that the greatest wrongs suffered by the country are placed upon it by law.

How near the country has been to civil revolution Senator Lewis may know better than the rest of us, but that there is widespread dissatisfaction with many of the laws and the way they are administered is known to all.

Ex-President Taft has for years been directing attention to faults in the laws applying to civil actions, showing how by needless delay and consequent increase in costs they work great hardship upon many litigants, and in many cases deprive them of their rights. Mr. Taft declares it is time for reform in this field, and no thinking man whose selfish, personal interests do not stand in the way can fail to agree with him.

And the seeming abuses in the administration of the criminal laws, which have long attracted public attention, are fast giving rise to a feeling of alarm. It is not necessary to particularize here. Many murder trials and other important criminal cases are handled in a manner to lead people to question whether life and property are protected as they should be. It is a bad thing to have such thoughts and questionings in the minds of the people, and Mr. Lewis is justified in saying: "Our duty is to awaken to modern things; to move nearer the citizen for whom the law is created, but who is the victim of its execution; abandon ancient form that wars against common sense; decline to carry along hoary precedent. Let the law be adjusted to the new temperature of a new civilization."

CURRENT OPINION

DRUG HABIT MENACE OF AMERICAN CITIES.

The almost constant parade of late of young men and women "dope fiends" from the pen to the bar of the county court is a harrowing sight. Their pallid complexions, trembling limbs, deranged nervous system and abnormal or expressionless eyes speak volumes for their weakness and proclaim human tragedies.

This drug habit is the worst curse today in our community. It strikes at the very vitals of our development. It prevents the growth of the mental, moral and physical powers. Continued use of drugs inevitably leads to a felon's cell or the insane asylum. Many believe because they use it in secret that they will not be discovered, but when it is too late the poor deluded victim finds the pernicious drug has shown the world his weakness and is his master, for which the community brands him fool, fend or felon.

I know of cases where cocaine and heroin have been sold within a hundred feet of the high school gates and on the corners, but the customary places of sale are in the dives, low saloons and cheap pool rooms.—Lewis L. Pinnett, Kings County (N. Y.) Judge.

TOLL EXEMPTION FIGHT HAS BEGUN

greatest legislative struggle of a decade was on.

Representative Henry to a house silently attentive, explained the rule and launched into a defense of the repeal bill. Then followed an argument in which the rule received little attention as compared with the merits of the measure, and the President's foreign policy, the right of the American government to exercise control of the canal, the right of the American ships to free tolls for the American ships were dragged back and forth in the discussion.

The foreign situation was the particular attraction for most of the speakers. All Democrats, declared that under the treaty, the United States had no moral right to pass its ships free. His opponents, Republicans and Progressives, attacked the foreign policy of the administration, and denounced the proposed repeal as an "abject surrender in Great Britain."

Throughout the discussion, Majority Leader Underwood for the first time opposing the administration, sat listening attentively to the argument. Republican Leader Mann and Progressive Leader Murdoch both made arguments against the rule and the bill.

The administration leaders tonight vigorously sought to keep their supporters in line and to secure recants. The opposition directed their efforts to securing votes to defeat a motion to close debate on the rule which will be made after an hour's debate tomorrow, and which, if beaten, would allow the amendment of the rule. In this situation the opponents of the bill would attempt to open the Sims bill to amendment and might secure the adoption of a compromise amendment, repealing the tolls section, without surrendering the tolls contention that the United States under the treaties has the right to grant free tolls.

GRANDMA USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Made Up a Mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur To Bring Back Color, Gloss, Thickness

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry scraggly or thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe at home though is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally and evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all the gray hairs have disappeared, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

RULES AGAINST THEIR CLAIMANT

Peculiar Problem Involved in the Settlement of Estate of Recluse.

A special session of probate court was held at Exeter on Thursday by Judge Louis H. Hoyt of Kingston. It was to settle the estate of Melissa Goodrich, the East Kingston recluse, who was found dead in her home last March. She was supposed to have been penniless, but property to the amount of $21,000 in personal and much more real estate was found.

There were nine heirs, one being George A. Creaser of Ludlow, Vt., an adopted child of H. Isabell Creaser, a niece of Mrs. Goodrich. The ruling of the court was of interest, as it involved the laws of two states. He was excluded the right of inheritance. Creaser claimed the right to inherit as a collateral heir by means of a Vermont adoption. Judge Hoyt held that while if his adoption had been in this state, he would be entitled to inherit, but as it took place in Vermont he had no such right of inheritance as the law there gives an adopted child the right to inherit from adopted parents solely, and not from the kindred of the parents.

The eight heirs all being of equal degree of relationship, are: Moses Warren, Thomas B. and R. H. French, Goodrich, Mary B. French, Helen M. March and Carrie D. Miller.

BY SCORE OF 47 TO 23.

Portsmouth Y. M. C. A. Defeat Webster Five of Rochester.

The Portsmouth Y. M. C. A. basketball team took the measure of the Webster Five by the score of 47 to 23 in Hayes' Opera House Wednesday evening. Bruce was the star of the game, being credited with 11 baskets. The visitors played a great passing game and completely outclassed their opponents. The Webster Five played a hard up hill game and executed several good plays but did not seem so hardened as their ability opponents. The game was free from all serious disputes and the work of the officials gave good satisfaction.

FILE PROTEST.

Lincoln Progressive Club Do Not Favor Any Repeal of Exemption Law.

Resolutions urging congress to investigate Secretary Daniels' receipt award of a contract for building a supply ship and transport to the Boston and Philadelphia navy yards, respectively were adopted at a mass meeting at Newport News, Va., on Thursday. The resolutions read: That the award was unjust and unfair to the Newport News Shipbuilding Company, and that it be directly reported that such action was taken for political purposes.

Congress was also urged to refuse Secretary Daniels' request for a $400,000 appropriation with which to put the two navy yards in condition to build the vessels.

SICK, SOUR STOMACH, INDIGESTION OR GAS

Take "Pape's Diapiesin and in Five Minutes You'll Wonder What Became of Stomach Misery"

Wonder what upset your stomach—what portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if your gases and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizziness and aches; acid gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—Just take a little Pape's Diapiesin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress. Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapiesin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal bill without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, safest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapiesin which costs only 50 cents for a large case at drug stores. Its truly wonderful—its digests food and gets things straight, so gently and easily, that it is really astonishing. Please for your sake don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; its no longer a secret.

EASTER SUPPER AND SALE

Ladies' Social Circle of Universalist Church Holds Successful Affair.

The Ladies' Social Circle of the Universalist Church conducted their annual Easter supper, sale, and entertainment in the vestry of the church on Thursday evening. The large attendance was most gratifying to the committee in charge. The supper was served at 6 o'clock and the menu embraced the following: Creamed chicken, hot rolls, pickles, cake, fancy pies, ice cream, coffee, and tea. Mrs. Freeman J. Garrett was chairman of the supper committee, Mrs. Charles Greene, sub-chairman, Mrs. Albert Garland and Mrs. E. A. Goudy, Mrs. Fred Gray, and Mrs. Goodrich.

The vestry was decorated in purple and white crepe paper, festooned, and with palms. A large purple bow formed the center piece of each table.

The booths and attendants were as follows:

A HARBINGER OF SPRING

A. Hiram Hayes, the well known Plains farmer informed The Herald this morning that a large flock of robins, blue birds and marsh quail were seen near his home, "Marshview."

Today comes one of the most startling films the Scenic has ever shown, "Victory or Death" is a four part feature. The heroine is in pursuit of the man who has escaped on the ocean liner. In order to overtake him she leaves in an aeroplane. When near the vessel she drops hundreds of feet to the water below, chancing a rescue from the boat. After being taken aboard ship the boat catches fire; the boilers explode and the ship goes to the bottom. It is one of those pictures that holds you tense on the edge of your seat from start to finish.

With this comes "The Arrow Makers Daughter," a two reel story. "The Clerk," a majestic drama, and two comedies, "The Poet Laureate of the Flying A" and a Keystone, "Twist Love and Fire."

Miss Belle Barron never gave us better songs than today. Just the kind that bring out all the good in her voice.

On Monday and Tuesday comes "A Life for a Life." This deals with the stirring days when the first Napoleon was terrorizing Europe.

PLAY GROUND IS NEEDED

Parents-Teachers' Association Discuss Questions of Vital Importance.

On Thursday evening a very successful meeting of the Parents-Teachers' Association was held at the Farragut school, with an attendance of over one hundred.

A short business meeting was held with Mrs. Meyer P. Alkon presiding. Miss A. Ruth Shapley read her report and it was accepted. Mr. Harry Wendall gave a report on the "Reservation for constant without danger" question, and said that Mayor Yeaton was very willing to do something about the matter and take it up with the Board of Public Works, saying that such a reservation was necessary to avoid danger and in the course of another winter it is hoped that such will be the result.

The question of a playground for that district was discussed. Mr. Billings, physical director of the local Y. M. C. A., spoke on the "Need of the Playground in that district" and Supl. James N. Pringle spoke on the same subject, saying that a playground was absolutely necessary in that section of the city, and ought to be near enough to the school for the school playground also. An enthusiastic endeavor will be made to bring this about as soon as possible.

At the conclusion of the business, Ernest Milbruck rendered the following selections: "Three for Jack," "Backward, Turn Backward, O Time in Your Flight," "The Skipper of St. Ives," and several encores. The girls of the seventh grade gave a Swedish folk-dance and the English folk-dance, entitled: "Peas Porridge Hot." The fourth grade girls gave the folk-dances entitled "Sleeping Beauty" and "The English and the Romans." A social hour was enjoyed.

HOME FOR AGED WOMEN

Thursday evening the inmates of the home were given an entertainment arranged for by the board of managers, the hostess being Mrs. Horace C. Frye. There was a large gathering of the home family, with their friends, revealing the fact that a part of Christian service, is to bring comfort and cheer, into the homes and hearts of those deprived of the larger social life.

A very interesting program was arranged consisting of instrumental music, singing, and reading selections, which were well rendered and heartily appreciated, at the conclusion of which all joined in singing: "Count your many blessings; name them one by one." This was followed by earnest prayer, by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Barnes, for rich blessings on the home.

Thus closed an evening of spiritual uplift, and a desire for future prosperity of the home.

The following program was rendered: General singing of gospel hymns.

Mrs. Frank Marshall, accompanist. Reading—Mrs. Ridge.

Instrumental selection, two violins—Howard Proctor and Oscar Anderson.

Plute—Frederic Proctor, Jr. Reading—Mrs. Horace Frye. Vocal Solo—Mrs. Barnes.

Reading—Mr. Frye. Trio—Misses Ruth Robie, and Marion Barnes; Mrs. Barnes, accompanist.

Piano Solo—Mrs. Frank Marshall. Reading—Mrs. Bennett.

Quartette—Mr. and Mrs. Barnes, Ruth Barnes and Oscar Anderson; Ethel Proctor accompanist.

Instrumental selection, two violins—Howard Proctor and Oscar Anderson. Plute—Frederic Proctor Jr.; Ethel Proctor accompanist.

Vocal Solo—Mrs. Barnes; Ruth Barnes accompanist.

Piano Solo—Ethel Proctor. Closing hymn—"Count your many blessings, name them one by one."

THEY ARE ALWAYS CORRECT.
